Software Installation

Ez8 doesn't need any drivers for connecting to computer to use, just need the built-in USB audio driver.

After you connect EZ8 to your computer for the first time, the computer will automatically install the general USB driver. And the system will tell you that "new hardware" is ready for operation after installation finished.

POWER

Use USB cable to connect your computer to EZ8, then EZ8 will be powered by USB, it doesn't need external power adaption.

Basic MIDI Control

Because EZ8 doesn't have built-in audio interface, playing keyboard will only send out MIDI data, including MIDI message. The virtual instrument can transform these data into a sound track of your DAW software, and produce new sound from the message received by EZ8.
